A steel jailers gate gives a more permanent security solution for those areas where highly visible physical security is required. They are extremely robust and cost effective and can be manufactured to fit any size of window or opening. Intruders will have to be extremely determined to get past these barriers. They are supplied black primed finish as standard or can be powder coated to a colour of your choice. And most importantly, they are manufactured and installed by our own engineers to comply with insurance company recommendations.
